

MAT + CREDENTIAL PROGRAM HIGHLIGHTS

14

Months required to earn both a master's degree and teaching credential

5

Core Commitments to Teaching

Equity, Learning from Teaching, Leadership & Agency, Understanding Learning & Learners, Teaching & Learning in the Content Areas

2

Multiple Subject Placements, including bilingual

6

Single Subject Credentials

Art, English, Math, Sciences, Social Sciences, & World Languages

35

Average Cohort Size Promotes community building

▶ 3.5 Average GPA of enrolled students, past three years

28

School districts where MAT candidates student teach, across Orange, Riverside and Los Angeles counties

100%

Methods instructors who have experience as teachers

9,500+

Credentialed alumni, across the nation, working as teachers, administrators, principals, and superintendents

▶ Why Earn a Master's Degree & Teaching Credential at UCI?

- Graduate in July, allowing immediate transition to full-time teaching position
- Complete capstone project; build understanding of how research informs practice and curriculum
- Receive support from experienced mentor teachers in partner school districts
- Study at a Hispanic-, Asian American-, and Native American Pacific Islander-serving institution
- Collaborate with a supportive and diverse community of professors, staff, and alumni
- Attend annual lecture series that highlights critical issues regarding diversity and inclusion
- Participate in a Math & Science Residency Program; tuition reimbursement provided
- Join the UCI Teacher Academy; receive lifelong professional development

No. 1

Best College in the U.S.

Money

No. 1

University doing the most for the American dream

New York Times

No. 1

Best Value College, among public universities

Forbes

No. 1

Cool School in the U.S. for Sustainability

Sierra Magazine

No. 8

Public University in the U.S.

U.S. News & World Report

For more information on how to apply and start your journey to becoming a teacher, visit education.uci.edu/mat-credential